Prerequisite:	ECON 410

Course Description

This course is a continuation of ECON410. While ECON410 dealt with basic price theory and market “successes,” this course will mainly cover market failures. In particular, we will first explore the notion of efficiency and equity in both a partial and general equilibrium framework. We will then add asymmetric information, behavioral economics, externalities, public goods, and market power to models learned in both ECON101 and ECON410 to analyze the effects on economic efficiency.

Course Schedule

A detailed course schedule with topics, exam dates, and homework and research paper due dates is posted on Sakai under Resources in the Administration folder. This schedule is subject to change as necessary.

EconAid Center

The EconAid Center is located in 009 Gardner Hall. It will be open from 11:30am to 8pm every weekday and will have occasional weekend hours as well. This is where I will hold Monday office hours during the semester. While office hours will take priority, this center also offers students a great space to work on their economics coursework individually or in groups.

Textbook

The recommended textbook is Microeconomics by David Besanko and Ronald Braeutigam. You do NOT have to purchase the most recent version of this textbook. You might find additional or alternative textbooks helpful in their treatment of the subject matter. If you would like to check-out or purchase a different textbook, most any "Intermediate Microeconomics" textbook will have similar content, and older editions will likely be just as useful as newer additions. In addition, there are several microeconomics books on 2-hour reserve in the library.

Clickers

Each student must bring a TurningTechnologies Clicker to each class (starting on Thursday, September 1st), except on exam days. Any of the following TurningTechnologies clicker models can be used in this course.

- ResponseCard RF - Bare bones model
- ResponseCard RF LCD (recommended) - Similar to the RF, but includes an LCD screen to verify your input
- ResponseCard XR - Upgraded model that allows numeric entry (which we will not be using)
- ResponseCard NXT - High-end model with all the bells and whistles

You will earn a daily clicker score based on attendance as well as performance on in-class questions. Here are some important things to note about clicker usage:

- Using a clicker other than your own is a violation of the Honor Code; having another individual use your clicker is a violation of the Honor Code.
- There are no opportunities to make up missed clicker points, and there will be no exceptions to this policy.
- In order to allow for illness, technical problems, and other unforeseen circumstances, I will drop 4 days' worth of clicker scores. Your clicker score will then be the average of all remaining daily scores.
- You must register your clicker with TurningTechnologies prior to September 1st. Registration instructions are posted on Sakai in the Administration folder under the Resources link. Be sure to enter your onyen (NOT PID!!) in the User ID box.

Personal Electronic Devices

Unless you have a documented visual, auditory, or learning disability requiring the use of a personal electronic device (and provide me with the supporting paperwork), all laptop, tablet, smart phone or cell phone usage is prohibited during class.

Calculators

Only very basic, non-programmable calculators are permitted during exams. If your calculator does not look like the two examples pictured below, it must be approved by me at least 7 days before an exam. No exceptions will be permitted.

Grades

Clickers	10%
Research Paper	20%
Homework	20%
Midterm Exam (Tuesday, October 18th)	20%
Final Exam (Tuesday, December 13th at 8am)	30%

The actual letter grade you earn in this course will be based on a grading scale to be determined after the final exam. This scale may or may not resemble the 10-point scale that many of you are used to (e.g., 90-100% is some sort of A, 80-89% is some sort of B, etc...) because I reserve the right to curve. (I will not curve down.) I will provide feedback over the semester on how to interpret your raw homework and exam scores so that you know how you are progressing in the course.

Research Paper

The research paper assignment is to critically analyze a particular example of a market failure in a 10-12 page paper. The assignment is in 4 parts, each nesting the preceding one. Each part of the assignment, described in the ECON510 Research Paper document posted on Sakai in the Assignments folder, must be turned in by the date and time specified. Assignments turned in up to 12 hours late will receive a 10 point penalty, and those turned in more than 12 but less than 24 hours late will receive a 20 point penalty. No assignments will be accepted if more than 24 hours late.

Homework

There will be 7 graded homework assignments throughout the semester. I will drop your lowest homework score and calculate your homework average based on all remaining homework scores. Homework assignments will be collected at the start of class. Homework not turned in within the first 10 minutes of class will be considered late, and late homework submissions will not be accepted. If you anticipate missing class on the day a homework is due, you may have a classmate turn in your assignment or deliver it to me in person before the due date. At noon on the day an assignment is due, an answer key will be posted on Sakai. Please review the answer key and ask any questions about this homework at the start of our next class.

Midterm/Final Exam Policies

If you miss a midterm and present me with a valid and documented excuse in advance, your final exam will comprise 50% of your grade. Valid reasons include a documented medical illness that prevents you from taking the exam, a death in your immediate family, or a documented mandatory court date. If you miss a midterm without a valid and documented excuse in advance you will receive a 0 for that exam.

Per UNC rules, you can only take the Final Exam at an alternative time if you present me with a pink slip from an advisor verifying that you have at least 3 exams in a 24 hour period. You must present me with a pink slip before the last day of classes. If you miss the Final Exam and do not have an excuse from the Dean, you will receive a score of 0 on your Final.
