Cornerstone Research Recruiting Opportunity

Cornerstone would like to invite interested students at UNC to apply for our Analyst and Summer Analyst positions. Detailed descriptions of the roles can be found on our website: <https://www.cornerstone.com/Careers/analyst>.

Please be aware of the application deadlines below.

- Analyst: September 19 at 11:59 pm
- Summer Analyst: October 1 at 11:59 pm

Please also be aware that Cornerstone Research will also be hosting a virtual session on interview tips & tricks on September 12, from 7:00 PM to 8:00 PM. Hear from our consultants about economic consulting and how it differs from management consulting. Learn about our case interview process and what you can do to get your foot in the door! Please register for the session using the link here: <http://ug-chire.icims.com/connect?eventId=7565&shareLink=1>.

As a quick introduction to our firm and culture, Cornerstone:

- Recruits students from all majors; we find that our most successful analysts have a demonstrated interest in research and desire to learn complex economic and financial concepts
- Works across industries including antitrust, healthcare, finance, intellectual property, and securities and has a generalist model that provides analysts with opportunities across sectors
- Maintains a positive work-life balance, supporting our diverse staff, with a strong analyst culture

September 6, 2023

This, combined with the firm's long-standing relationships with our clients, makes Cornerstone an ideal place to start a career. Analysts from Cornerstone often go on to top M.B.A., J.D., or Ph.D. graduate programs or proceed directly into technology, business, finance, or nonprofit work.

We would really appreciate it if you could pass along the information to students who might be interested. Please feel free to reach me at michael.lambert@cornerstone.com if you have any questions.

Apply here: <https://careers-brookings.icims.com/jobs/3286/research-assistant-%28job-id%3a-2023-3286%29/job>

Applicants should have a Bachelor's degree by summer 2024 in Economics, Mathematics/Statistics, Public Policy, or other Social Sciences with a minor in Economics and will need to submit a cover letter, resume, two letters of recommendation, and a transcript. The application deadline is October 15, 2023.

Registration is Open: The Women in Finance Symposium at NC State, Friday, September 15, 2023

We are excited at the number of undergraduate students interested in attending our Women in Finance Symposium, which will be held on Friday, September 15, 2023, in the McKimmon Center at NC State University in Raleigh. If you had tried to register and received a message that we are no longer accepting responses, please know that we have increased our meeting space. As such, if you are still interested in attending, be sure to revisit the link below to register.

The Women in Finance Symposium is an opportunity to introduce women leaders in the field of finance to undergraduate students interested in pursuing an advanced mathematics or finance degree. This event is free and open to all undergraduate students. Our panelists will share their personal experiences as well as highlight job opportunities that are specifically directed towards women. Attendees can look forward to a buffet lunch, Q&A with our featured panelists and a post-symposium social with our panelists and graduate student ambassadors currently enrolled in the Financial Mathematics graduate program. This will be a great forum for undergraduate students currently enrolled in STEM, business and finance related degrees who may be interested in exploring careers and graduate programs in financial mathematics.

Registration is open, but seats will fill up again soon. To register now click here.

For more information, please visit go.ncsu.edu/womeninfinance or email us at financial-mathematics@ncsu.edu.
